How to use this guide

ArtistikCity is an online art school with a marketplace. You can take live courses and workshops, send in your artwork for review, earn a certificate, and then sell your certified paintings. You can also buy original paintings and prints, or commission a hand-painted piece made from your own photo.

The guide follows the order most people use the site in. Chapter 1 explains the journey in one page. Chapters 2–3 cover finding your way around and your account. Chapters 4–9 take you from choosing a course to selling your own work. Chapters 10–11 are for buying art and commissions, and Chapters 12–14 cover your account pages, the reading and help pages, and answers to common problems.

Conventions

- Words in bold are buttons, tabs or labels exactly as they appear on screen.
- Numbered lists are steps to follow in order.
- Tip boxes give shortcuts; Important boxes explain rules that can stop you (for example time limits on held paintings).
- Long pages are shown in parts so the text stays readable; the caption says “continued”.

What you need

- A current browser (Chrome, Edge, Safari or Firefox) on a computer, tablet or phone. Every page works on a phone.
- An e-mail address or an Indian mobile number to create your free account.
- For payments: UPI, a debit/credit card or net banking (India, through Razorpay), or PayPal / a card (outside India).

CHAPTER 1

Your creative journey at a glance

Everything on ArtistikCity follows one path: learn, get certified, then sell. The site keeps track of where you are.

1.1 The seven steps

The How it works page (header link) shows the full roadmap. The same steps appear as a tracker at the top of your studio, with a tick on every step you have finished.

STEP	WHAT YOU DO	WHERE
1 Discover	Browse courses, workshops, Studio Stories and the marketplace.	Home, Courses, Marketplace
2 Join	Create a free account with e-mail, phone, Google or Facebook.	`/join`
3 Choose a course	Pick a live course or workshop and pay for it.	Course page → Enroll
4 Learn	Attend the live sessions, watch the lesson videos, do the practice tasks.	My studio → My courses
5 Submit	Upload photos of your finished assignments for review by your instructor.	My studio → Submissions
6 Certify	Finish every lesson and get at least one assignment approved: your certificate is ready.	My studio → Certificates & reports
7 Sell your art	List your approved paintings in the marketplace; you set the price and keep the artist share of each sale.	My studio → Sell your art

> TIP The artist share and payout timing shown in step 7 come from the live site settings, so the page always quotes the current terms.

CHAPTER 2

Finding your way around

The header, the footer and the search box are the same on every public page.

2.1 The home page

The home page opens with a search box and quick links by medium. Below it you will find the most popular courses, courses grouped by medium, live courses and workshops, artwork by students, Studio Stories and the newsletter sign-up.

The header

- How it works: the seven-step roadmap (Chapter 1).
- Courses: the course catalogue with filters (Chapter 4).
- Commission art: order a painting made from your photo (Chapter 11).
- Marketplace: original paintings, prints and downloads (Chapter 10).
- Studio Stories: the studio's journal (Chapter 13).
- The search box finds courses by title, medium or topic. It tolerates small typos and missing accents.
- Log in / Join for free, or, once signed in, My studio, Log out and your avatar menu with your account pages.
- The bag icon opens your cart. A number shows how many items are in it.

2.2 Cookies

On your first visit a small banner asks about cookies. Accept all allows analytics; Essential only keeps just the cookies the site needs to work (sign-in, cart, security). Your choice is remembered in your browser.

2.3 Using the site on a phone

On a phone the header menu folds into the menu button, filters open in a drawer and every checkout fits one column. Nothing is missing on the phone version.

CHAPTER 3

Your account: join, log in, recover

You can look around without an account. You need one (free) to buy anything, learn, submit work or sell.

3.1 Join for free

1. Click Join for free in the header (or any Enroll / Buy now button, which brings you here first).
2. Choose how to sign up: the Google or Facebook button, or fill in your name and e-mail (or switch to Phone).
3. Choose a password, or use the link under the button to join without a password: you will then sign in with a one-time code each time.
4. Tick the box if you want course recommendations and Studio Stories by e-mail, then click Join for free.
5. Open the e-mail we send you and confirm your address. Some actions (for example buying) ask you to verify first.

3.2 Log in

The log-in screen offers several ways in. Use whichever you set up; all of them open the same account.

- Continue with Google / Continue with Facebook.
- Log in with a passkey: your phone or computer unlocks with your fingerprint, face or PIN (set it up in Login & security, Chapter 12).
- Email or Phone tab → Email me a code: type the 6-digit code we send you.
- Log in with a password instead: e-mail and password.
- Email me a link instead: a one-click sign-in link by e-mail.
- Keep me signed in on this device keeps you signed in for longer on your own computer. Leave it unticked on a shared computer.

If you click Enroll or Buy now while signed out, the log-in page says what you are about to buy and brings you straight back to it after you sign in.

3.3 Forgot your password

1. On the log-in page choose Log in with a password instead, then Forgot your password?.
2. Type your e-mail and click Send reset link.
3. Open the e-mail, click the link and choose a new password (at least 8 characters, not a common password).

> TIP You can always sign in with a one-time code instead of a password, so a forgotten password never locks you out.

CHAPTER 4

Finding a course

Courses run over several weeks with live sessions; workshops are short (often one day). Both are bought and taken the same way.

4.1 The course catalogue

Open Courses in the header. The page lists every course and workshop that is open.

- Medium tabs across the top (Watercolour, Acrylic, Pencil, Charcoal ...).
- Format buttons: All formats, Live courses, Workshops, with the number of each.
- Age pills (for example Kids, Teens, Adults) so families can find the right class.
- More filters: level and subject. Active filters show as chips you can remove one by one.
- Search inside the catalogue. If nothing matches, the page suggests the one change that brings courses back.
- Your filters are kept in the address bar, so Back, refresh and shared links show the same view.

4.2 The course page

Click a course card to open its page. Everything you need to decide is there:

- Title, instructor, rating, start date, duration, number of live sessions and the price (rupees in India, US dollars elsewhere).
- Section tabs that jump to: Overview, What you will learn, Curriculum (modules and lessons), Schedule (with a downloadable schedule PDF when provided), Instructor, Reviews and FAQ.
- The trailer video, when the course has one.
- Enroll (or Join the waitlist when a live course is full), and the heart button to save it to your wish list.

> TIP Live courses have a limited number of seats. When you start checkout a seat is held for you for 15 minutes; if a course is sold out you can join the waitlist and you will be invited by e-mail when a seat frees up.

4.3 Instructors and student profiles

Our instructor (footer) introduces the teacher, with links to all their courses. Each instructor and each student also has a public profile page with their courses and portfolio.

CHAPTER 5

Enrolling and paying for a course

Payment happens on a secure checkout. We never see your card details: Razorpay (India) or PayPal (outside India) handles them.

5.1 Enroll from the course page

1. On the course page click Enroll. If you are not signed in you are asked to log in or join first, and then come straight back.
2. Your account is ticked. Under Billing details pick a saved address or type one; tick Save this address to my account to reuse it.
3. Click Continue to payment.
4. Choose how to pay: India (UPI, cards, net banking through Razorpay) or International (PayPal or card, charged in US dollars).
5. Complete the payment in the Razorpay or PayPal window.
6. You land on the confirmation page and receive an e-mail receipt with a link to your classroom. The course appears at once in My studio → My courses.

IMPORTANT Your course only opens after the payment provider confirms the payment. If your bank shows a debit but the course is not open after a few minutes, do not pay again: the site re-checks unfinished payments every 5 minutes. If it is still missing after an hour, write to us from Help & support with your order number.

5.2 Courses advertised on a landing page

Some courses have their own campaign page at an address like `/landing/…`, often linked from ads, e-mails or social posts. It describes the course and has an enrol button that opens a checkout right on the page, sometimes with a launch price or a coupon field.

> TIP Coupon codes are checked on the server when you apply them and again when you pay, so the price you see is the price you are charged. If a code has expired or reached its limit you will see why.

5.3 Free lessons

Free lessons are short taster lessons you can open from My studio once you have an account. They are a good way to try the teaching style before you buy a course.

CHAPTER 6

My studio

My studio is your home on ArtistikCity once you are signed in. Open it from the header.

6.1 The studio dashboard

The five tabs at the top stay with you on every studio page: My studio, My courses, Submissions, Certificates & reports and Sell your art. Under them the journey tracker shows how far you have come.

- A large card with your next step and a button that takes you there.
- Counters: courses, work in review, approved work and certificates.
- Reminders, for example certificates ready to download or what you have for sale.
- My classrooms: each course with progress, the next lesson and its certificate.
- Your latest submissions with their review status.

6.2 My courses and workshops

My courses lists everything you are enrolled in. Filter by All, Courses, Workshops, In progress or Completed, or search. Each card has a button that opens the next unfinished lesson (Revisit lessons once the course is finished) and Course overview.

CHAPTER 7

Learning in a course

Each course opens in a focused view without the studio tabs, so you can concentrate on the lessons.

7.1 Course overview

The overview shows the course header with your progress, the syllabus (modules and lessons with ticks), the course project, your certificate status and links to share your work or get help.

7.2 The learning view

1. Open the course from My courses or My studio (or click any lesson in the syllabus).

2. The left side shows the syllabus. Collapse or expand a module, or hide the list with Hide lessons for more room.
3. Watch the lesson video. Live lessons show “This lesson is taught live. The recording appears here after the class.” until the recording is added.
4. Read the notes and download any PDF handouts under the video.
5. Click Mark as complete when you are done. The lesson gets a tick and your progress bar moves.
6. Use Next / Previous to move between lessons, even across modules.

7.3 Practice tasks and feedback

Some lessons include a practice task. Open it from the lesson, upload a photo of your attempt and write a note. Your instructor replies on the same page, and you can reply back. Each task shows where it stands: Needs reply, Under review, Feedback, Reviewed or Completed.

CHAPTER 8

Submitting work and getting certified

Submissions are your finished assignments. Approved work counts towards your certificate and can later be sold.

8.1 Send in an assignment

1. Open My studio → Submissions.
2. Under New submission choose the course, give the artwork a title and (optionally) tell the reviewer what you tried or where you want feedback.
3. Drop a photo of the artwork (JPG or PNG, up to 15 MB) and click Submit for review.
4. The work appears in Review history as Pending review. You get an e-mail when it has been reviewed.

STATUS	MEANING
Pending review	Waiting for your instructor.

STATUS	MEANING
Approved	Accepted. It counts towards your certificate, and you can list it for sale once you are certified.
Changes requested	Read the reviewer's note, improve the piece and submit again.

> TIP Take the photo in daylight, straight on, with the whole artwork in the frame. A clear photo makes the review faster and is what buyers see if you sell it later.

8.2 Certificates and the portfolio report

A course certificate unlocks when you have completed every lesson and have at least one assignment approved in that course. The certificate card then says Ready to claim.

1. Open My studio → Certificates & reports.
2. Click Claim & download certificate to get the PDF, or View & print to print it.
3. For a portfolio, choose what to include (curriculum, instructor comments, approved work only) and click Create portfolio PDF.

Every certificate has a unique number. Anyone (for example an employer or a gallery) can check it on the site’s certificate verification page, which shows whose certificate it is and for which course.

> TIP Download links are private and last 10 minutes. If one has expired, just click the button again.

CHAPTER 9

Selling your art

Certified students can list their approved paintings in the marketplace as student originals. You set the price; the studio reviews each listing, handles payment and delivery, and pays you your share.

9.1 The Sell your art page

Open My studio → Sell your art. The top cards repeat the current terms: the share you keep, the minimum price, when you are paid and that buyers pay the studio securely.

- Ready to sell: approved work from courses you are certified in that is not listed yet.
- Your listings: drafts, listings in review, live and sold, each with Edit, View and Withdraw.
- Offers: prices collectors have suggested for your paintings.
- Earnings: earned, to be paid, in holding and paid out.
- Payout details: where we send your money (UPI, Indian bank account or PayPal).

9.2 List a painting

1. Under Ready to sell click List for sale on an approved piece. Its approved photo becomes the cover.
2. Add more photos if you like (close-ups, the painting on a wall).
3. Write the story of the piece, and fill in the medium, surface, size in inches, year and whether it is signed or framed.

4. Set your price. The page shows what you will earn from it.
5. Tick Accept offers if collectors may suggest a price.
6. Click Send for review. The listing shows In review; staff approve it (it goes live in the marketplace, marked “Student painting”) or ask for changes with a note.

IMPORTANT Editing a live listing sends it back for review, and it is hidden until it is approved again. Withdraw takes a listing off sale and keeps it as a draft.

9.3 Offers on your paintings

When a collector makes an offer you get an e-mail and the offer appears under Offers. You can accept it, make a counter-offer or decline, within the time shown on the offer. If you accept, the painting is held for that buyer until they pay; if they do not pay in time the hold ends and the painting is for sale again.

9.4 Getting paid

1. Under Payout details choose UPI, Bank account (India) or PayPal (outside India) and fill in the details.
2. Save. For your security you may be asked to sign in again first if you last signed in more than 30 minutes ago.
3. After a sale your share shows as In holding. It becomes payable after the holding period and is paid in the next weekly payout run.

TIP Your payout details are stored encrypted and are shown back to you masked. Only finance staff can see them, and every look is recorded.

CHAPTER 10

Buying art in the marketplace

The marketplace sells one-of-a-kind originals and, for many paintings, numbered canvas editions, posters and digital downloads.

10.1 Browse the collection

Open Marketplace. Artist originals are shown first. Switch to Student paintings to see work by certified ArtistikCity students. Filter by medium, sort by price or newest, or search by title, artist or subject.

10.2 The artwork page

Each painting has its own page with large photos (click to zoom), an On a wall view, the artist's story, the details (size, medium, year, signed, framed, certificate of authenticity) and the buy box.

- Choose a format: Original painting (one of a kind), Limited edition canvas (numbered), Fine art poster or Digital download. Only the formats the artist offers are shown.
- Choose a size. Canvas and poster prints also take a custom size: type the long side in inches or centimetres, and the price is worked out from the print area.
- Buy now goes straight to preview and payment; Add to cart lets you keep shopping.
- Make an offer (originals that accept offers) and Chat with the artist, plus share and save-to-wish-list buttons.

10.3 Preview and frame (prints)

For prints, Buy now opens the preview page in three parts. Use Next and Back, or the steps at the top:

1. A. Size: preset sizes or your own size, drawn to scale with the framer's dimension lines.
2. B. Frame: frame and mount choices, with the price updating as you go.
3. C. See it on your wall: your choice shown in real rooms. Use the arrows, swipe, or the thumbnails; in rooms measured in inches you can switch on a person for scale.

10.4 The cart and held originals

The cart (bag icon) opens as a drawer; View cart opens the full cart page where you can change quantities, save items for later, remove them or apply a coupon.

IMPORTANT An original is held for you for 15 MINUTES once it is in your cart, so nobody else can buy it while you pay. You can hold ONE ORIGINAL AT A TIME : if you choose another, the site asks whether to switch your hold to the new piece or keep the first.

10.5 Checkout

1. Contact: name, e-mail, country and mobile (the courier calls this number), then Continue to delivery.
2. Delivery address (skipped for digital downloads), then Continue to payment.
3. Payment: India (UPI, cards, net banking through Razorpay) or International (PayPal or card, shown with the approximate US dollar amount). Click Pay.
4. After the payment you see the confirmation with your order number, and an e-mail receipt arrives.

Prints and originals are packed, shipped with tracking and appear in Your orders with a Track delivery link once shipped. Digital downloads have a download link in the confirmation e-mail and in Your orders. Originals and numbered canvases come with a certificate of authenticity you can open from Your orders.

> TIP If you pressed Buy now with other things already in your cart, checkout pays only for that item and leaves the rest in your cart.

10.6 Making an offer

1. On an original that accepts offers click Make an offer.
2. Type your price (the dialog shows the lowest offer the artist accepts) and an optional message.

3. Tick the box confirming that you will pay within the time shown if the offer is accepted, and send it.
4. Follow it in Your offers: the artist can accept, counter or decline. Offers expire if nobody answers in time.
5. If your offer is accepted the painting is held for you; pay the agreed price from Your offers through the normal checkout.

Commission a painting from your photo

A commission is a hand-painted original made by an ArtistikCity artist from your photo. Six short steps; you can change anything before you pay.

11.1 The six steps

1. Theme: choose a style (for example a classic portrait or a landscape).
2. Size & delivery: digital file only, a physical canvas print, or the original painting; then the dimensions and orientation. The room picture shows the size to scale.
3. Photo: upload your reference photo, compare the original and a painted preview, set the texture strength and add special instructions.
4. Frame: frame type and an optional mount.
5. Review: check every choice and the total.
6. Checkout: Proceed to Secure Payment and pay as for any other order.

After payment the commission is queued. The artist may send you a proof before painting; you then see it move through production to shipping in Your orders.

CHAPTER 12

My account

Open the avatar menu in the header. The account pages share one menu on the left.

12.1 Profile

Your name, e-mail, verified phone number, profile title and description (shown on your public profile), and location. Use View public profile to see what others see.

12.6 Login & security

- Your sign-in methods: e-mail, phone and password (add, change or remove).
- Connected accounts: link or unlink Google and Facebook.
- Passkeys: add one so you can sign in with your fingerprint, face or device PIN.
- Where you are signed in: every device and browser, with a button to sign it out.
- Recent security activity.

> IMPORTANT Changing a sign-in method asks you to sign in again if your last sign-in was more than 30 minutes ago. This protects your account if someone else uses your computer.

12.7 Notifications and Help & support

Notifications is the place for your message preferences; it has no settings yet. Help & support collects answers to common questions; use the Contact page to reach the studio.

CHAPTER 14

Troubleshooting and common questions

14.1 Problems and what to do

IF...	DO THIS
I did not get the sign-in code or e-mail	Wait a minute and check spam. Ask for a new code (there is a short wait between codes). Or sign in another way: password, Google, Facebook or a passkey.
“Too many attempts”	For your security sign-in is paused for a few minutes after repeated tries. Wait and try again.
I paid but my course is not open	Do not pay again. The site re-checks payments every 5 minutes. After an hour, contact us with the order number from Your orders or the receipt.
“Sold out” at checkout	All seats are taken. Join the waitlist on the course page; you will be e-mailed if a seat frees up.
The painting I chose is held by someone else	Another buyer is paying for it. Holds last 15 minutes; check again later or save it to your wish list.
My hold ran out	Add the piece to the cart again; if nobody else has taken it you get a new 15-minute hold.
The price changed at payment	A coupon expired or a price was updated while you were paying. The checkout shows the new total before you pay.
I can’t list my painting	Only approved submissions from a course you are certified in can be listed. Check Certificates & reports.
I’m asked to sign in again	Some changes (payout details, sign-in methods) need a recent sign-in. Sign in and you return to the page.
A page says “Site under construction”	The studio has temporarily closed the site with a password. Try again later.

14.2 Getting help

Use Help & support in your account, the Contact page, or the Ask the studio link on any checkout. Include your order number (for example from Your orders) so we can find your purchase quickly.
